

Beneath the smog

Fire alerts by land-use area

Complex situation on the ground

- Slash-and-burn practices deeply ingrained among local communities
- Small enclaves within plantation concessions lie outside companies' control
- Sheer size of land area makes it difficult to monitor
- Weak enforcement of laws and regulations
- No common map for government, companies and NGOs to refer to